On Wednesday 9 December, the Development Policy Centre will host a forum to discuss and debate two recent aid evaluations by DFAT's Office of Development Effectiveness (ODE).

The event will address the issue of development partnerships with a focus on two recent ODE evaluations of the Australian NGO Cooperation Program (ANCP) and Australia's non-core funding to the Asian Development Bank and the World Bank.

The multilateral banks and NGOs represent two of the Australian aid program's more important delivery partners, and the evaluations contain a number of important findings and recommendations.
